Smears

We are focussing on smear tests for women aged 25–64. During the screening appointment, a small sample of cells will be taken from your cervix. Smear tests are recommended to be taken ever 3 years for most women.

It is a simple test with vital benefits. It can help detect early cancer signs and you can be treated accordingly. Missing your smear test can be fatal— there were 854 deaths from cervical cancer in England in 2016.

Please call the centre on 020 7384 4850 to see if you are eligible and to book an appointment.
